TICKETS FOR EXCURSION TO PEARL HARBOR GO FAST

Many Requests for Places on Yacht Hawaii--
Ten Yachts Will Sail to Pearl
Harbor May 9.

The business office of the Advertiser was a lively place yesterday afternoon. People began coming in about 2 o'clock and they were not there to buy papers, nor to insert advertisements nor to grouch about not having their names mentioned in the society column. They were there to make bookings for the big excursion to Pearl Harbor on May 9.

It is unfortunate that the possible accommodation is so alarmingly small. Judging by the rush for tickets yesterday the yacht club could easily charter a steamer and load it to the gunwales with eager excursionists. But the yacht club is not doing anything in the steamer-chartering line. It is arranging a real yacht cruise and everybody who buys a ticket will have a place aboard a real yacht.

Mr. Crane had his baggage labels all ready. These are the tickets for the excursion. Each one is printed on both sides with the big word "Paid" and a blank space for the name of the yacht on which the purchaser will sail, the which is filled in with ink.

These labels are to be worn by those who go aboard the yachts and this method will relieve the various pursers of much work as they will not have to go round and ask for tickets but just take a glance and see whether people have the big label on.

There was a big run on tickets for the Hawaii. The announcement that the fair sex would have the first chance on the schooner was taken notice of and there were half a dozen eager swains who wanted to know whether they could get tickets for themselves as well as the ladies they wished to invite.

This was quite a question to be answered but Mr. Crane had no trouble, as all the mere men wanted to take a small bevy with them and he figured that one man to four women was about the right proportion and had no difficulty in placing tickets under those conditions.

Hawaii Nearly Full Up.

Those who expect to go on the Hawaii must certainly get in early. There are only a few places left and it looks as though all the others would be gone before tonight. The committee has decided not to crowd the Hawaii, but to limit the number of tickets so that everybody who goes on her can have a really good time and thoroughly enjoy the sail to Pearl Harbor and the delightful beat back along the coast.

Everybody who goes on this excursion will pay for their places. There will be no dead-heads. The land-lubber who sits in the cockpit and wonders whether his breakfast will stay down and the hard-working volunteer who hauls on the jib-sheets or slacks the boom over for a jibe, will both come in with their little ante. The yachtsmen feel that this is by way of a big family party to get the yacht club out of debt and raise sufficient funds to look after the Hawaii properly and they are all working together to make the affair one grand success.

Round Trip Fare $1.50.

As already stated, but repeated for the benefit of those who have not taken notice, the fare will be $1.50 for the round trip or $2.50 for a gentleman and lady. Tickets are in the shape of a label which is to be worn like a tag.

Ten yachts will take part in the excursion. Those who come first for tickets will be served first and will have the choice of the craft on which they go to Pearl Harbor. The Mokolii is a power yacht and will carry about fifty passengers. She will tow the Luka, a sailing schooner which will also carry about fifty.

The other yachts are all sailing vessels and will sail to Pearl Harbor. It is possible that some of them will tow back but most of them will beat back against the wind to Honolulu harbor and this, for anybody who enjoys a good sail, will be one of the pleasantest features of the excursion.

All those who do not wish to return by water can come back on the train by paying their own car-fare, which is a matter of some forty cents.

The afternoon train will bring all

MARINES BEST 20TH INFANTRY

By a score of seven to one, the Marines handed it to the boys from Fort Shafter, in their second appearance in the Military League schedule, at Aala Park yesterday afternoon.

The road-pounders made their one and only in the first inning, and from that time on they were never really dangerous. The Marines made all their seven runs in three innings, and they certainly came in bunches when they did come.

Lemm was the romper for the Infantry. He reached third after a bingle and two steals, and then a fine two-bagger by Bateman sent him in. The Marines made two runs in the second, and followed with three in the third, making their final two tallies in the sixth.

Gibson pitched an excellent game for the winners, only two of the five hits he allowed amounting to anything, and the other three were scattered where they could do no good. He was ably seconded by Williams behind the bat, and the two of them were a very effective battery.

The next game in the series will be at Lihueh next Sunday, between the N. G. H. and the 5th Cavalry. There will be tremendous excitement over this game, and a large crowd of rooters from the local camps will go out on the train to watch the game. The train will leave the O. R. & L. depot at 9:15, and will leave Lihueh at 2:30 in the afternoon. The round-trip fare is $1.25.

POLLARDS WIN CRICKET MATCH

The Pollards upheld their reputation for being good athletes as well as good actors by handing it to the local cricket-ers by a score of 43 to 39 in a one inning game with only ten men on their side, yesterday afternoon at Makiki field.

The bowling on both sides was excellent and this accounts for the low score. Ayres and R. A. Jordan bowled the entire inning for the local players. This is the first time that the former has bowled for a long time and his record of 5 wickets for 12 runs was commendable.

Ernest Chester, Alfred Goulding and Harold Frazer did the bowling for the winners. They were all three in excellent form and it was only Podmore who could do anything with them. This able batter piled up a score of 25, but was finally bowled out by Goulding.

There was quite a little crowd of the Pollards' friends out to watch the game and there was much jubilation when the winning run was scored with only eight wickets down. Eva Moore and several other of the fair members of the company graced the field with their presence and they all seemed to be enjoying it very thoroughly, for, as they said, it reminded them of home.

Frank Cherry had an unfortunate bout with a ball which resulted in his thumb being split, the which accounts for his lack of score, as he is usually an excellent batter.

The batting scores were as follows: Pollards—E. Chester, 12; F. Chester, 0; Alfred Goulding, 0; Jack Pollard, 5; Fred Bindloss, 2; Harold Frazer, 0; Teddie McNamara, 3; Frank Cherry, 0; Willie Pollard, 8, not out; F. N. Smith, 0. Byes, 7; total, 43.

Honolulu C. C.—Maxwell, 0; R. A. Jordan, 0, not out; H. M. Ayres, 5; Melanphy, 0; H. Bailey, 2; Podmore, 25; D. L. Withington, 0; Gibson, 0; Oudekirk, 0; Stacker, 2; Lishman, 1; byes, 4; total, 39.

The St. Louis-Kam game will be played at Aala Park this afternoon at 3:15, and not on the Kam diamond. This is the second of the games that were postponed last Saturday on account of the weather.

HIGH SPRINGS BIG SURPRISE

Standing of Interscholastic League.

	P.	W.	Pct.
Kams	1	1	1.000
High School	2	1	.500
Punahou	2	1	.500
St. Louis	1	0	.000

A big surprise was sprung yesterday afternoon, when the High School defeated the Oahu College on Alexander field by the close score of 6 to 5.

Henry Chillingworth pitched for the winners and twirled an excellent game. The genial Henry made a hit with the rooters for his side by skinning first base on a hike for second, while the umpire was not looking. There was some demur from the opposite side, but, as Henry quite rightly said, "that is all in the game. Keep that eleven commandment."

The Punahou did not have their best team on the diamond and will probably do better next time, but, whatever the reason was, the High School victory delighted several hundred rooters from McKinley way and upset all the dope that has been carelessly laid out for the Punahou team to come through the series with 100 per cent.

There was a much larger crowd present than on Monday, and the rooting could be heard from the end of Manoa Valley to Waikiki. The game was a close one all the way through, and was so intensely exciting that several of the onlookers had what are technically known as "conniption fits."

This victory of the High School was the best thing that could happen for the series. It has stirred up interest and enthusiasm and will put all the players to working overtime to win games.

Eddie Fernandez stated yesterday afternoon that he was feeling sick and unable to umpire the game at Aala Park yesterday afternoon, and that he tried without success to communicate with the president of the league, over the telephone. This accounts for his non-appearance on the diamond to umpire the game.

HOUSE

and taxes would be less than he thought, week ago.
"I do not," answered the Auditor. Cohen wanted to know, then, where the big difference in the new statement came in. He was told that the new statement was based on the actual receipts of the past year and included no estimate of increase.
"Which, in your judgment, is the most accurate statement?" Cohen asked.

"I should say my own statement," he answered, referring to the one showing a surplus, stating however that it was wholly a matter of guess. That statement, he said, did not figure on refunding any bonds. If two million were to be refunded it would take $102,000 more than he had figured on. He stated that he regarded the estimates of the Governor as very conservative.

"Do you think then," asked Kalei-oku, "that the present bill is within the revenue?"

"I think it will come closer than the other," said the Auditor.
Rice asked if any refunding of bonds was provided for and was told no.
"If we have the appropriation bill too high then the Governor will not be able to refund bonds?" asked Rice. The Auditor agreed.

In answer to Castro the Auditor stated that $120,000 had been appropriated outside of the regular appropriation bill, but he had figured that the excess of revenue over expenditures between now and July 1 would take care of this amount.

"Which estimate would be the safest to adopt, yours or the Governor's?" asked Sheldon.
The Auditor sidetracked.

Furtado Rebels.

Furtado rose to make his twelfth speech, which brought on a row. Shingle tried to squeeze him but brought about a small revolution. Several rose to points of order, Furtado defying them all.

"I have the floor and I insist on talking," he said.

He talked for some time.

The Auditor was finally excused and Rice moved that Secretary Mott-Smith be asked to make a statement.

Long stated that he was ready to go on without hearing from anyone else.

Cohen moved to rise and report that the committee had satisfied itself that the bill was within the estimated revenue.

Sheldon objected. "Let us have more light. Let us go to the root of the matter," he said.

Cohen's motion to rise was lost on the casting vote of the chair and Rice's motion to call in Secretary Mott-Smith was declared carried.

"I protest against that count," shouted Cohen. "The vote was fifteen to twelve. I appeal from the chair." The gavel pounded him into quiescence.

Then followed a series of motions to call in the Governor, Superintendent of Public Works, Superintendent of Education, President of the Board of Health, Adjutant General, etc. Shingle refused to put the motions in spite of Furtado's insistence.

Mott-Smith Explains.

In a recess, pending the arrival of the Secretary of the Territory, there was much heated wrangling, some Oahu members accusing Shingle of having surrendered to Kauai.

Secretary Mott-Smith, after order had been restored, stated that the Auditor's estimate was based on the money paid in for the past two years, the Governor's estimate being based on the figures submitted by the heads of departments as to what they had reason to expect would come in.

He then submitted what he considered the most nearly correct figures, showing that the bill carried $122,079 over the revenues. Not a single improvement outside of those in the bill was included except $40,000 for the leper hospital. These figures show that on June 30, 1911, the Territory would be $123,000 in the hole, excluding all the expenses of the next Legislature, some $35,000 to $40,000, and any current appropriation bill for the period. The present Legislature had passed such a bill carrying $174,000. If the next Legislature does the same the deficit for the period would be $370,000.

Mott-Smith made a good defense of the Governor's vetoes.

The committee rose at six o'clock and reported that the consideration of the veto be proceeded with.

"It means we are just where we started," explained Rice.

Votes on Vetoes.

The item next considered was that of the deputy insurance commissioner. Furtado moved to override the veto. The vote showed: Ayes, 14; noes, 15, in favor of the veto.

The veto of the item for clerk and interpreter, Third Taxation district, was sustained on a close vote, 18 to 11. The Mahukona wharf item was next. Shingle moved to override the veto, seconded by Douthitt. The vote to override was: Ayes, 19; noes, 10. Oahu and Hawaii voted together, against Maui and Kauai.

The veto of the Hanalei wharf item was sustained by all the Kauai members, getting opposition only from Oahu and Hawaii. The vote to override showed: Ayes, 9; noes, 20.

The Queen's hospital item was next. Douthitt moved to override the veto. His motion was lost, receiving only 16 votes, to 13 for the veto.

The Maui hospital veto was sustained, all the islands voting against it impartially. The vote stood: To sustain, 24; to override, 5.

The Hilo hospital veto followed the same course. The vote was: To override the veto, 8; to sustain, 21.

The vetoes of the items of the three assistant clerks of the First Circuit and of the assistant clerk of the Fourth Circuit were overridden. All others were sustained.

House Acts Alone.

The House received the report of the conference committee on the Organic Act amendment draft bill, killing the resolution. Acting independently of the Senate, the draft bill was sent in a House resolution and passed as the first business of the evening session.

Good Financial Record.

Chairman Castro of the Public Accounts Committee presented a statement of the session expenses, show-

Refused Final Grab.

Before presenting this report, Castro announced that the committee refused to honor vouchers for the imaginary extra services of the House officers and recommended that the resolution asking for the extra pay be tabled. It was tabled.

Deer Bill Veto.

Three hours before the session must close, the consideration of the veto of the Deer Bill, off-deferred, was taken up, on motion of Furtado.

Coney said it was not proven as yet that the deer harmed the forests. Such pigs were harmful and goats likewise, but no recommendation comes from the Governor to destroy them. At any rate the open season gave plenty of time to destroy the deer. He moved that the veto be not sustained.

Afonso said the time had come to add Hawaii to the forty-eight other states and territories which protect deer. He remarked that Columbus discovered America by mistake and advanced that as a reason for overriding the veto.

Kawewehi was surprised at Afonso. He looked surprised about something, having just missed a bushel basket he had stored several things in from off his desk. He concluded by announcing that he was one wise man who would change his opinion and would support the motion to override.

Nawahine asked Cohen if a deer could do tricks and was told by the Speaker—in a hoarse Hawaiian whisper, not to make a chump of himself before all the strangers in the gallery.

After considerable jockeying over the vote the veto was overridden on a vote of 20 to 10.

Thanks for the Speaker.

At 9:40 the complimentary portion of the last day's business was reached. Kaniho, who wore an American Beauty in his button hole, presented the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the thanks of this House be presented to Honorable H. L. Holstein, Speaker, for the able, impartial and dignified manner in which he has presided over its deliberations and performed the arduous and important duties of the chair, during the present Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii."
